

What can you do with your SEI membership today?

- Sign up for the next Structures Congress sponsored by SEI – www.SEInstitute.org
- Personalize your membership online – www.asce.org/interests
- Receive a free report for salaries at your level and region – www.asce.org/salaries
- Receive up-to-date information on issues affecting structural engineers – www.asce.org/keycontacts
- Find protection for you and your family with ASCE insurance programs – www.asce.org/benefits

Join Now at www.SEInstitute.org

STRUCTURAL ENGINEERING INSTITUTE

sei@asce.org
(800) 548-2723 • (703) 295-6195

1801 Alexander Bell Drive
Reston, VA 20191

Join today for:

- Solutions to your technical questions
- Innovations to keep you at the forefront of technology
- Promotion of your profession

At every stage of your career.

Designing sustainable structural systems is your specialty...

Giving you the knowledge to do it is ours.

Today, the demand for resilient, sustainable structures has never been more important. We know it's more than just a concern for you – it's your career. That's why the Structural Engineering Institute (SEI) provides an avenue for its more than 20,000 members to advance the profession through research, education, and standards development. SEI advances members' careers, fuels technological advancement, and improves professional practice.

Here are just a few ways you benefit from being an SEI member at any stage of your career:

- >> Unrivaled opportunities to network with professional peers through more than 20,000 members
- >> Up-to-date information on new technologies and emerging trends
- >> Complimentary subscriptions to STRUCTURE magazine, SEI Update, Modern Steel Construction, and Civil Engineering magazine
- >> Discounts on technical publications and conferences
- >> Tailored professional development programs – offered at significant discounts – to fit your specific career goals
- >> Leadership opportunities at the local and national level

Commitment to your career and profession.

From start...to finish.

Early Career —

- Land your first or next job with Career Connections, the interactive online job site just for civil engineers
- Be "in the know" on the newest innovative projects, technical news, and upcoming training opportunities through the SEI Update e-newsletter.
- Meet new people, develop new business clients, and interact with local and national leaders by joining your local SEI technical chapter
- Excel in your professional career, and thrive in your personal life with insurance programs designed to protect you and your loved ones

Mid-Career —

- Drive the industry's codes and standards through participation in one of many SEI technical committees
- Customize your SEI membership by identifying specific interests – www.asce.org/interests
- Find out how much you're worth in the job market before taking the next step in your career or set the compensation benchmark for your company with the Engineering Income and Salary Survey
- Plan for you and your family's future with one of three Group Term Life Insurance plans
- Get legislative alerts on key structural engineering initiatives that directly impact civil engineers through ASCE's Key Contact program

Late Career —

- Lead your profession by chairing an SEI committee activity
- Share your knowledge by volunteering for disaster response initiatives like the Committee on Critical Infrastructure (CCI)
- Stand and be recognized for your distinguished accomplishments through SEI honors and awards
- Save on personal long-term care programs
- Guide younger engineers in their technical development by instructing a webinar

